Legal notice

The software used performs calculations on the basis of more than the two decimal places displayed. Minor discrepancies cannot be ruled out due to further calculations using published results.

The value of a unit is calculated by dividing the entire value of the investment fund inclusive of its income by the number of units. The total value of the investment fund is calculated on the basis of the current market prices of the securities, money market instruments and subscription rights in the fund plus the value of the fund's financial investments, cash holdings, credit balances, receivables and other rights net of its payables. That value will be calculated by the custodian bank.

The net assets are calculated in accordance with the following principles:

- a) The value of assets quoted or traded on a stock exchange or other regulated market shall be determined, in principle, on the basis of the most recently available price.
- b) Where an asset is not quoted or traded on a stock market or another regulated market or where the price for an asset quoted or traded on a stock market or another regulated market does not appropriately reflect its actual market value, the prices provided by reliable data providers or, alternatively, market prices for equivalent securities or other recognized market valuation methods shall be used.

Raiffeisen KAG calculates performance based on the published fund price, using the OeKB methodology. Individual costs – such as transaction fees, the subscription fee (not exceeding 0.00 %), the redemption fee (not exceeding 0.00 %) or custody charges of the investor – and taxes are not included in the performance calculation. These would reduce the performance if they were included. Past value is not a reliable indicator of the fund's future performance.

Fund investment policy report

Raiffeisen Fund Balanced started the new reporting season with a slightly higher equities exposure. Commodities were also increasingly incorporated into the portfolio, while euro government bonds and money market were considered less attractive. In the course of June 2021, the debate about inflation and its potential effects on monetary policy heated up. For a short time, statements by the FED indicating the possibility of earlier interest rate hikes created uncertainty. In early July 2021, the fund bought further equities and reduced European government bonds. Within the bond segment, the focus on the higher yields of investment-grade corporate bonds was maintained. In terms of equities, the fund added a few stocks in North America and Europe. During the month of July 2021, concerns about growth triggered by the spread of the coronavirus Delta variant led to lower bond yields and, temporarily, to weaker prices on the stock markets. In August 2021, the fund maintained its stronger equities weighting at the expense of European government bonds. Within the bond segment, the focus on the higher yields of investment-grade corporate bonds was maintained. On top of this, the fund invested in US high-yield bonds. In terms of equities, the fund reduced a few stocks in North America and bought Europe. In the course of the month, the renewed rise in Covid infections in the developed markets and the announcement of greater economic intervention by the Chinese state culminated in the consolidation of higher-risk asset classes. On the other hand, yields of bonds with high ratings declined again. In early September 2021, the fund slightly reduced its high equities exposure. There were no changes in the bond segment. In the middle of the month, the developments surrounding the Chinese real estate developer Evergrande and the uncertain consequences for Chinese growth weighed on investor sentiment. The fund neutralized the stronger weighting of equities and commodities in early October 2021. This positioning was maintained throughout November 2021. Euro government bonds had a weaker weighting throughout the entire reporting period, while euro corporate bonds were seen in a much more positive light.
